Mr. J. E. Travis, Plant Manager
Hanford Works
Richland, Washington

Dear Mr. Travis:

Your consideration in making possible the recent tour of the Hanford works by members of my staff and other Agency and service representatives was greatly appreciated. Associating building characteristics and physical features with plant function and operations is of major importance to us and the tour was highly successful in providing information in this regard.

The excellent arrangements made by Mr. McHale and his staff, the opportunity of discussing processing operations with plant experts and the chance to see production facilities firsthand all contributed in providing the group with a background in nuclear engineering that could be achieved in no other way. The ground and aerial photographic coverage taken of the plant installations will be of particular value to us. Arrangements for the use of this material are being made through Dr. Reichardt of the AEC Washington office.

Many thanks to you and your associates for the courtesy and fine support which made possible a highly successful tour of Hanford.

Very truly yours,

Arthur C. Lundahl
